Located on the Main Water Channel
National Park TORTUGUERO, the North Caribbean, Costa Rica

Tortuguero is on Costa Rica's North Caribbean Region, one of the most diverse National Parks, with 11 ecological habitats, from high rainforest to herbaceous marsh communities. Back of the lagoon is a coastal rainforest threaded by an infinite maze of serpentine canals and streams fed by rivers flowing from the central mountain range

A room at Manatus Hotel begins with an extraordinary sense of peace and solace. Your exclusive room is designed to inspire; its beauty connects you with the surrounding environment of a wildlife sanctuary and of water canals. Enjoy nature at its maximum splendor, without sacrificing comfort; our pool next to the canal gives our guests the illusion of becoming one with the wild."

We received the "NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC FLAG", thanks to the support, that the hotel has been giving for a program to protect the Manatee, threatened species in Tortuguero.

In Manatus, and attention of quality is not an exception is a rule. We offer VIP services and all the possibilities for romantic getaways, family vacations, sports and adventures escape.

THE MANATEES' CONSERVATION

Our main concern is nature conservation and the preservation of threatened species such as the manatee. For that reason, we join forces with the Manatee Conservation Foundation, with the objective to create an information program for the community to understand their behavior and protect their habitat.

Thanks to that effort, our hotel was awarded with the "National Geographic Flag", which we exhibit to remind us Dr. Bernard Nietschmann's words on that occasion:

"To preserve the silent sirens (manatees) who live under the black waters..."
